

Donald J. Gantzer

Mr. Gantzer works for TRW System and Information Technology Group on the FAA's System Engineering and Technical Analysis [SETA] contract. He is supporting the Chief Information Office [CIO] in acquisition process improvement. He is the contractor lead for measurements which includes training, identifying and assisting implementation of process , projects and Executive measurement activities. He has over 30 years experience in all life cycle phases of systems and software engineering, including systems integration, testing and analyses, policy analysis, operations research, and tools/modeling /simulation.

He is working with the team developing the PSM's Practical System Measurements guidebook, and is co-chair of INCOSE's Measurements Working Group.

He has taught extensively courses in systems analysis, project management, BPR/TQM, statistics, OR, and structured programming at local universities.

Mr. Gantzer has an MS in Operations Research [Ohio State], an MA major in Transportation Planning [VPI], and a BS in Systems Engineering [Ohio State].