

---

---

---

---

Biographical Information

---

---

---

---

Joe Caravello

Joe Caravello is a career professional of the Federal Aviation Administration where he is currently the Business Manager for the FAA Chief Scientist for Software Engineering. His current responsibilities include Chairman of the FAA Corporate SEPG Learning Resource Group which is responsible for training for Process Improvement and Co-Chairman of the FAA SEPG Metrics Working Group which is responsible for FAA Executive Metrics and Practical Software Measurement implementation.

Mr. Caravello's previous experience with the government has included a variety of assignments such as Air Traffic Control Specialist, FAA Academy Instructor, Contracts and Management Specialist, Program and Management Analyst, Program Manager and Business Manager.